organized by the 'Amazing Friends Konguru, Kulashekara', the deceased-Ashraf came by raising the slogan 'Pakistan, Pakistan'. The accused and other people followed the deceased-Ashraf and assaulted him resulting in his death. Subsequently, a complaint was filed by one Sri.Deepak Kumar and the police registered a FIR against the accused and other persons for the offences punishable under Section 103(2), 115(2), 189(2), 190, 191(1), 191(3) and 240 of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023 (for short 'the BNS'). The accused were arrested and were remanded into judicial custody. The accused filed petitions under Section 483 of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita, 2023 (for short the 'BNSS') seeking to grant regular bail in Crime No.37/2025. The Sessions Court considered the said petitions and allowed the same. Being aggrieved, the next of kin of the deceased as well as the State have filed these petitions seeking cancellation of bail.

4. Sri.Clifton D'Rozario, learned counsel appearing for the next of kin of the deceased submits that as per the guidelines of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of TEHSEEN S POONAWALLA Vs. UNION OF INDIA AND OTHERS¹, the victim(s) or the next of kin of the deceased in cases of mob lynching shall be given timely notice of any Court proceedings and the same shall be entitled to be heard at the trial in respect of applications such as bail, discharge, release and parole filed by the accused persons. However, in the instant case, there was no notice to the next of kin of the deceased and the non-issuance of such notice vitiates the order granting bail. It is submitted that the Hon'ble Supreme Court has also directed the State Governments to prepare a lynching/mob violence victim compensation scheme and also provide for interim relief to the victim or the next of kin of the victim, however, in the instant case, no scheme for interim compensation has been formulated by the State Government. Hence, the State Government must be directed to formulate a scheme for interim compensation to the victim or next of kin of the deceased and also for grant of compensation to the next of kin of the deceased in the instant case. It is further submitted that the crimes in which the accused are involved are heinous in nature and hence, the Sessions Court ought not to have granted bail solely on the ground of parity with other co-accused; or on the ground that the name of the accused was not initially found in the FIR but was subsequently implicated during the course of the investigation; or on the ground that the accused did not have any previous antecedents. It is also submitted that in view of the procedural lapse by the Sessions Court, the order granting bail may be set-aside and the accused may be directed to surrender and the Sessions Court may be further directed to re-consider the bail application on merits after giving an opportunity to the next of kin of the victim to file his objections. In support of his contentions, he places reliance on the following decisions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court:

- a) JAGJEET SINGH AND OTHERS Vs. ASHISH MISHA AND ANOTHER²
- b) NATIONAL FEDERATION OF INDIAN WOMEN (NFIW) Vs. UNION OF INDIA AND OTHERS³

- f) SAGAR Vs. STATE OF U.P. AND ANOTHER⁷

Hence, he seeks to allow the petitions.

in which the accused are involved is heinous in nature and solely on the ground of parity with co-accused, non-implication in the FIR and lack of criminal antecedents, has proceeded to grant bail to the accused. It is submitted that the crime committed by the accused is mob-lynching due to which it is not necessary that the name of each person has to be mentioned in the FIR and can be implicated during subsequent investigation and in the instant case, the chargesheet filed clearly indicates the involvement of the accused, hence, the order of bail ought to be set aside. It is further submitted that as per the guidelines of the Hon'ble Supreme Court referred supra, the next of kin of the deceased ought to have been issued timely notice specially when there is a hearing for bail application of the accused and non-compliance of such process vitiates the order of bail. It is also submitted that the State has filed a memo along with documents indicating the compliance of the directions of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of TEHSEEN S POONAWALA referred supra. It is contended that if this Court is not inclined to set aside the order of bail, then it may add an additional condition directing the accused to present themselves before the police station every month to avoid the attempt of tampering the witness. It is further contended that the Sessions Court may also be directed to dispose of the case within 6 months as per the guidelines of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of TEHSEEN S POONAWALA referred supra. Hence, he seeks to allow the petitions.

6. Per contra, Sri.Aruna Shyam, learned Senior counsel appearing for the accused in Crl.P.Nos.10339/2025, 16338/2025, 16367/2025, 10321/2025 and 10314/2025, Sri.M.R.Balakrishna, learned counsel appearing for the respondent No.3 in Crl.P.No.10314/2025, Sri.Ashwin Joyston Kutinha, learned counsel appearing for the respondent No.3 in Crl.P.No.10321/2025 and Sri.V.R.Balaraj, learned counsel appearing for the respondent in Crl.P.No.16275/2025 support the impugned order passed by the Sessions Court and submit that the charge sheet in the instant case has already been filed, hence, the need for custodial interrogation does not arise. It is submitted that the State has challenged the order granting bail to the accused Nos.4 and 11 by this Court before the Hon'ble Supreme Court and the same came to be rejected, hence, the question of setting aside the order of granting bail does not arise. It is further submitted that a detailed guidelines may be issued directing the State to formulate a scheme for interim compensation to the victim or the next of his kin in cases involving mob violence/lynching and also further direction may be issued to the Sessions Court to issue notice to the victim or the next of his kin in cases of mob lynching. It is also submitted that setting aside of the order of bail involves the liberty of the accused, hence, it would not be appropriate at this stage to ask them to surrender. Hence, they seek to dismiss the petitions.

7. I have heard the arguments of the learned counsel appearing for the next of kin of the deceased, the learned State Public Prosecutor-I appearing for the State, the learned Senior counsel and other learned counsels appearing for the accused and meticulously perused the material available on record. I have given my anxious consideration to the submissions advanced on both the sides.

8. The material on record indicates that a friends club called the 'Amazing Friends Konguru, Kulashekara' organized a cricket play at Kallurti Temple, Kudupu, on 27.04.2025. On the said day, during the match at 3 p.m., the deceased-Ashraf came by raising a slogan 'Pakistan, Pakistan'. On seeing the deceased-Ashraf, various cricket players, other audience along with the accused followed him and the deceased-Ashraf ran on seeing the people approaching him and fell on the center of the road. The accused and the other people surrounded him at the center of the road, kicked and assaulted him. The deceased-Ashraf suffered blunt injuries on his body and eventually succumbed to those injuries. Subsequent to the death of the deceased-Ashraf, based on the complaint by one Sri.Deepak Kumar, the police registered a FIR against the accused and other persons for the offences punishable under Section 103(2), 115(2), 189(2), 190, 191(1), 191(3) and 240 of the BNSS. The accused were arrested as per the FIR and were remanded to judicial custody. The accused filed petitions under Section 483 of the BNSS, seeking to grant regular bail in Crime No.37/2025. The Sessions Court considered the said applications and allowed the same in Crl.Misc.Nos.426/2025 and 442/2025 on the ground of parity that the co-accused in another petition had also been granted bail. In Crl.Misc.No.423/2025, the petition was allowed on the ground that the name of the accused was not in the complaint or the FIR, but was subsequently implicated during the course of investigation. Further, in Crl.Misc.No.394/2025 and Crl.Misc.No.395/2025, the petitions were allowed on the ground that the accused do not have any criminal antecedents.

9. To appreciate the various contentions raised by the learned counsels, it would be useful to refer to the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of TEHSEEN S POONAWALLA referred supra. The relevant portion is extracted below:

"15. *At the very inception, while delving into the rivalised submissions advanced at the Bar, it is necessary to understand that a controversy of the present nature deserves to be addressed with enormous sensitivity. We had issued certain directions as an interim measure and there has been some compliance but we are of the considered opinion that the situations that have emerged and the problems that have arisen need to be totally curbed. The States have the onerous duty to see that no individual or any core group take law into their own hands. Every citizen has the right to intimate the police about the infraction of law. constitutional and statutory scheme and, thereafter, he may be convicted or acquitted as per the adjudication by the judiciary on the basis of the evidence brought on record and the application of legal principles. There cannot be an investigation, trial and punishment of any nature on the streets. The process of adjudication takes place within the hallowed precincts of the courts of justice and not on the streets. No one has the right to become the guardian of law claiming that he has to protect the law by any means. It is the duty of the States, as has been stated in Nandini Sundar v. State of Chhattisgarh [Nandini Sundar v. State of Chhattisgarh, (2011) 7 SCC 547 : (2011) 2 SCC (L&S) 762] , to strive, incessantly and consistently, to promote fraternity amongst all citizens so that the dignity of every citizen is protected, nourished and promoted. That apart, it is the responsibility of the States to prevent untoward incidents and to prevent crime.

vigilantism, be it for whatever purpose or borne out of whatever cause, has the effect of undermining the legal and formal institutions of the State and altering the constitutional order. These extra-judicial attempts under the guise of protection of the law have to be nipped in the bud; lest it would lead to rise of anarchy and lawlessness which would plague and corrode the nation like an epidemic. The tumultuous dark clouds of vigilantism have the effect of shrouding the glorious ways of democracy and justice leading to tragic breakdown of the law and transgressing all forms of civility and humanity. Unless these incidents are controlled, the day is not far when such monstrosity in the name of self-professed morality is likely to assume the shape of a huge cataclysm. It is in direct violation of the quintessential spirit of the rule of law and of the exalted faiths of tolerance and humanity.

19. *Mob vigilantism and mob violence have to be prevented by the Governments by taking strict action and by the vigil society who ought to report such incidents to the State machinery and the police instead of taking the law into their own hands. violence cannot be permitted to become the normal way of life or the normal state of law and order in the country. Good governance and nation building require sustenance of law and order which is intricately linked to the preservation of the marrows of our social structure. In such a situation, the State has a sacrosanct duty to protect its citizens from unruly elements and perpetrators of orchestrated lynching and vigilantism with utmost sincerity and true commitment to address and curb such incidents which must reflect in its actions and schemes.

One must constantly remind oneself that an attitude of morbid intolerance is absolutely intolerable and agonisingly painful.

40. In view of the aforesaid, we proceed to issue the following guidelines:

A. Preventive Measures:

40.1. The State Governments shall designate, a senior police officer, not below the rank of Superintendent of Police, as Nodal Officer in each district. Such Nodal Officer shall be assisted by one of the DSP rank officers in the district for taking measures to prevent incidents of mob violence and lynching. In the said scheme for computation of compensation, the State Governments shall give due regard to the nature of bodily injury, psychological injury and loss of earnings including loss of opportunities of employment and education and expenses incurred on account of legal and medical expenses. The said compensation scheme must also have a provision for interim relief to be paid to the victim(s) or to the next of kin of the deceased within a period of thirty days of the incident of mob violence/lynching.

In times of chaos and anarchy, the State has to act positively and responsibly to safeguard and secure the constitutional promises to its citizens. The horrendous acts of mobocracy cannot be permitted to inundate the law of the land. Earnest action and concrete steps have to be taken to protect the citizens from the recurrent pattern of violence which cannot be allowed to become "the new normal". The State cannot turn a deaf ear to the growing rumblings of its People, since its concern, to quote Woodrow Wilson, "must ring with the voices of the people". The exigencies of the situation require us to sound a clarion call for earnest action to strengthen our inclusive and all-embracing social order which would, in turn,* simultaneously ignoring judicial precedents and established parameters for grant of bail. It has been ruled on numerous occasions that an FIR cannot be treated as an encyclopaedia of events. While the allegations in the FIR, that the accused used his firearm and the subsequent post-mortem and injury reports may have some limited bearing, there was no legal necessity to give undue weightage to the same. Moreover, the observations on merits of a case when the trial has yet to commence, are likely to have an impact on the outcome of the trial proceedings.

37. Keeping all these factors cumulatively in mind, we have no difficulty in answering Question (B) also in the affirmative. It is held that the order under challenge does not conform to the relevant considerations.

C. Whether interference is warranted by this Court

39. As a sequel thereto, bail bonds of the respondent-accused are cancelled and he is directed to surrender within a week.

40. Having held so, we cannot be oblivious to what has been urged on behalf of the respondent-accused that cancellation of bail by this Court is likely to be construed as an indefinite foreclosure of his right to seek bail. It is not necessary to dwell upon the wealth of case law which, regardless of the stringent provisions in a penal law or the gravity of the offence, has time and again recognised the legitimacy of seeking liberty from incarceration. To put it differently, no accused can be subjected to unending detention pending trial, especially when the law presumes him to be innocent until proven guilty. Even where statutory provisions expressly bar the grant of bail, such as in cases under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, 1967, this Court has expressly ruled that after a reasonably long period of incarceration, or for any other valid reason, such stringent provisions will melt down, and cannot be measured over and above the right of liberty guaranteed under Article 21 of the Constitution (see Union of India v. K.A.

41. We are, thus, of the view that this Court on account of the factors like:

(i) irrelevant considerations having impacted the impugned order granting bail;

(ii) the High Court exceeding its jurisdiction by touching upon the merits of the case;

(iii) denial of victims' right to participate in the proceedings; and

(iv) the tearing hurry shown by the High Court in entertaining or granting bail to the respondent-accused;

can rightfully cancel the bail, without depriving the respondent-accused of his legitimate right to seek enlargement on bail on relevant considerations.

42. We are thus inclined to allay the apprehension in the mind of the learned Senior Counsel for the respondent-accused that the cancellation of bail by this Court shall amount to denial bail to the respondent-accused till conclusion of the trial.

trial is expropriated, nor the "victim" or the State are denuded of their right to oppose such a prayer. In a situation like this, and with a view to balance the competing rights, this Court has been invariably remanding the matter(s) back to the High Court for a fresh consideration. [Naresh Pal Singh v. Raj Karan, (1999) 9 SCC 104, para 12 : 1999 SCC (Cri) 466; Brij Nandan Jaiswal v. Munna, (2009) 1 SCC 678, paras 12 and 13 : (2009) 1 SCC (Cri) 594; Hari Om Yadav v. Dinesh Singh Jaat, 2013 SCC OnLine SC 610, para 6.] We are also of the considered view that ends of justice would be adequately met by remitting this case to the High Court for a fresh adjudication of the bail application of the respondent-accused, in a fair, impartial and dispassionate manner, and keeping in view the settled parameters which have been elaborated in paras 29 to 32 of this order."

"8. This Court has, in a catena of judgments, outlined the considerations on the basis of which discretion under Section 439CrPC has to be exercised while granting bail. In Gurcharan Singh v. State (Delhi Admn.) [Gurcharan Singh v. State (Delhi Admn.), (1978) 1 SCC 118 : 1978 SCC (Cri) 41] this Court has held as to the various parameters which must be considered while granting bail. This Court held as follows : (SCC pp. 127-28, para 24)

"24. ... Even so, the High Court or the Court of Session will have to exercise its judicial discretion in considering the question of granting of bail under Section 439(1)CrPC of the new Code. The overriding considerations in granting bail to which we adverted to earlier and which are common both in the case of Section 437(1) and Section 439(1)CrPC of the new Code are the nature and gravity of the circumstances in which the offence is committed; the position and the status of the accused with reference to the victim and the witnesses; the likelihood, of the accused fleeing from justice; of repeating the offence; of jeopardising his own life being faced with a grim prospect of possible conviction in the case; of tampering with witnesses; the history of the case as well as of its investigation and other relevant grounds which, in view of so many valuable factors, cannot be exhaustively set out."

9. The above factors do not constitute an exhaustive list. The grant of bail requires the consideration of various factors which ultimately depends upon the specific facts and circumstances of the case before the Court. There is no straitjacket formula which can ever be prescribed as to what the relevant factors could be. However, certain important factors that are always considered, inter alia, relate to prima facie involvement of the accused, nature and gravity of the charge, severity of the punishment, and the character, position and standing of the accused [see State of U.P. v. Amarmani Tripathi [State of U.P. v. Amarmani Tripathi, (2005) 8 SCC 21 : 2005 SCC (Cri) 1960 (2)]].

10. At the stage of granting bail the Court is not required to enter into a detailed analysis of the evidence in the case. Such an exercise may be undertaken at the stage of trial.

11. Once bail has been granted, the appellate court is usually slow to interfere with the same as it pertains to the liberty of an individual. A Constitution Bench of this Court in Bihar Legal Support Society v. Chief Justice of India [Bihar Legal Support Society v. Chief Justice of India, (1986) 4 SCC 767 : 1986 SCC (Cri) 537] observed as follows : (SCC p. 770, para 3)

"3. ... It is for this reason that the Apex Court has evolved, as a matter of self-discipline, certain norms to guide it in the exercise of its discretion in cases where special leave petition are filed against orders granting or refusing bail or anticipatory bail. ... We reiterate this policy principle laid down by the bench of this Court and hold that this Court should not ordinarily, save in exceptional cases, interfere with orders granting or refusing bail or anticipatory bail, because these are matters in which the High Court should normally be the final arbiter.”

(emphasis supplied)

12. The above principle has been consistently followed by this Court. In Prasanta Kumar Sarkar v. Ashis Chatterjee [Prasanta Kumar Sarkar v. Ashis Chatterjee, (2010) 14 SCC 496 : (2011) 3 SCC (Cri) 765] this Court held as under : (SCC p. 499, paras 9-10)

“9. We are of the opinion that the impugned order [Ashish Chatterjee v. State of W.B., CRM No. 272 of 2010, order dated 11-1-2010 (Cal)] is clearly unsustainable. It is trite that this Court does not, normally, interfere with an order passed by the High Court granting or rejecting bail to the accused. However, it is equally incumbent upon the High Court to exercise its discretion judiciously, cautiously and strictly in compliance with the basic principles laid down in a plethora of decisions of this Court on the point. It is well settled that, among other circumstances, the factors to be borne in mind while considering an application for bail are:

- (i) whether there is any prima facie or reasonable ground to believe that the accused had committed the offence;*
- (ii) nature and gravity of the accusation;*
- (iii) severity of the punishment in the event of conviction;*
- (iv) danger of the accused absconding or fleeing, if released on bail;*
- (v) character, behaviour, means, position and standing of the accused;*
- (vi) likelihood of the offence being repeated;*

(vii) reasonable apprehension of the witnesses being influenced; and
(viii) danger, of course, of justice being thwarted by grant of bail.

10. It is manifest that if the High Court does not advert to these relevant considerations and mechanically grants bail, the said order would suffer from the vice of non-application of mind, rendering it to be illegal."

13. In Mahipal v. Rajesh

Kumar [Mahipal v. Rajesh Kumar, (2020) 2 SCC 118 : (2020) 1 SCC (Cri) 558] this Court followed the holding in Prasanta Kumar Sarkar [Prasanta Kumar Sarkar v. Ashis Chatterjee, (2010) 14 SCC 496 : (2011) 3 SCC (Cri) 765] and held as follows : (Mahipal case [Mahipal v. Rajesh Kumar, (2020) 2 SCC 118 : (2020) 1 SCC (Cri) 558] , SCC p. 126, para 17)

"17. Where a court considering an application for bail fails to consider relevant factors, an appellate court may justifiably set aside the order granting bail. An appellate court is thus required to consider whether the order granting bail suffers from a non-application of mind or is not borne out from a prima facie view of the evidence on record. It is thus necessary for this Court to assess whether, on the basis of the evidentiary record, there existed a prima facie or reasonable ground to believe that the accused had committed the crime, also taking into account the seriousness of the crime and the severity of the punishment."

14. Recently, a three-Judge Bench of this Court in Jagjeet Singh v. Ashish Mishra [Jagjeet Singh v. Ashish Mishra, (2022) 9 SCC 321] , has reiterated the factors that the Court must consider at the time of granting bail under Section 439CrPC, as well as highlighted the circumstances where this Court may interfere when bail has been granted in violation of the requirements under the abovementioned section. This Court observed as follows : (SCC para 27)

"27. We may, at the outset, clarify that power to grant bail under Section 439CrPC, is one of wide amplitude. A High Court or a Sessions Court, as the case may be, are bestowed with considerable discretion while deciding an application for bail. But, as has been held by this Court on multiple occasions, this discretion is not unfettered. On the contrary, the High Court or the Sessions Court must grant bail after the application of a judicial mind, following well-established principles, and not in a cryptic or mechanical manner."

15. It is worth noting that what is being considered in this case relates to whether the High Court has exercised the discretionary power under Section 439CrPC in granting bail appropriately. Such an assessment is different from deciding whether circumstances subsequent to the grant of bail have made it necessary to cancel the same. The first situation requires the Court to analyse whether the order granting bail was illegal, perverse, unjustified or arbitrary. On the other hand, an application for cancellation of bail looks at whether supervening circumstances have occurred warranting cancellation.

16. In Neeru Yadav v. State of U.P. [Neeru Yadav v. State of U.P., (2014) 16 SCC 508 : (2015) 3 SCC (Cri) 527] this Court held as follows : (SCC p. 513, para 12)

"12. We have referred to certain principles to be kept in mind while granting bail, as has been laid down by this Court from time to time. It is well settled in law that cancellation of bail after it is granted because the accused has misconducted himself or of some supervening circumstances warranting such cancellation have occurred is in a different compartment altogether than an order granting bail which is unjustified, illegal and perverse. If in a case, the relevant factors which should have been taken into consideration while dealing with the application for bail have not been taken note of, or bail is founded on irrelevant considerations, indisputably the superior court can set aside the order of such a grant of bail. Such a case belongs to a different category and is in a separate realm. While dealing with a case of second nature, the court does not dwell upon the violation of conditions by the accused or the supervening circumstances that have happened subsequently. It, on the contrary, delves into the justifiability and the soundness of the order passed by the court."

17. In the present case, it is necessary to determine whether the High Court while granting bail to Respondent 2-accused has properly exercised its discretion under Section 439CrPC by following various parameters laid down by this Court. A bare perusal of the impugned order [Omprakash v. State of Rajasthan, 2021 SCC OnLine Raj 3499] passed by the High Court does not suggest that the Court has considered any of the relevant factors for grant of bail.”

12. The learned counsels for the next of kin of the deceased and the State contend that the guidelines issued in the TEHSEEN S PONNAWALLA referred supra by the Hon’ble Supreme Court clearly indicate that the victim or the next of kin of the victim must be given timely notice of any Court proceedings and he/she shall be entitled to be heard at the trial in respect of applications such as bail, discharge, release and parole filed by the accused persons. In the instant case, it is not in dispute that the Sessions Court has neither issued notice nor heard the next of kin of the victim, while considering the application for regular bail, hence, it is contended that as a result, the order of grant of bail stands vitiated. To consider the same, it

CNR: KAHC010469262025

NC: 2026:KHC:44907
CRL.P No.10339/2025
AND CONNECTED MATTERS

would be important to understand the distinction between setting aside an order of bail and cancellation of bail. The findings of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Y referred supra indicates that in order to set aside an order granting bail, the Court has to analyze whether the order granting bail was illegal, perverse, unjustified or arbitrary, whereas on the other hand, in order to cancel a grant of bail, it needs to look at whether supervening circumstances have occurred warranting cancellation such as if there was any violation of bail conditions. In the instant case, the case clearly falls within the first category as there is no allegation against the accused for non-compliance of any bail conditions nor that he has committed any crime warranting such cancellation of bail. The challenge to the order of bail, in the instant case, is on the ground that the Sessions Court has failed to comply with the procedure of issuing notice and hearing the next of kin of the deceased.

AND CONNECTED MATTERS

13. The Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of JAGJEET SINGH AND OTHERS referred supra clearly indicates that denial of the right of victim(s) or the next of kin of the deceased to participate in the proceedings can be a ground to cancel the bail without depriving the respondent-accused of his legitimate right to seek enlargement on bail on relevant considerations.

14. The decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of SAGAR referred supra states that parity with the co-accused cannot be the sole ground to grant bail and the role of the accused in each case has to be looked into. The said decision will not aid the learned counsel for the next of kin of the deceased as though the ground of parity cannot be mechanically applied to co-accused while granting them bail, the Court must investigate the role of the accused. However, in the instant case, the crime of mob violence and lynching is collective in nature, and no specific role can be assigned to an accused and the facts and charges against the co-accused to whom bail was granted by this Co-ordinate Bench and the accused in the instant case are one and the same. Hence, the contention that the ground of parity cannot apply to the accused, is required to be rejected.

15. Keeping in mind the aforesaid propositions of law, I am of the considered view that the Sessions Court has committed a grave error in failing to issue timely notice to the next of kin of the deceased and also failed to provide an opportunity to the next of kin of the deceased to object the application seeking regular bail filed by the accused. However, I am not inclined to set aside the order granting bail for the following reasons:

- a) The charge sheet has already been filed – The material on record clearly indicates that the chargesheet in the instant case has already been filed, hence, no question of custodial interrogation would arise.

CNR: KAHC010469262025

NC: 2026:KHC:44907
CRL.P No.10339/2025
AND CONNECTED MATTERS

- b) The Co-ordinate Bench of this Court has granted bail after considering the objections of the next kin of the victim – The Co-ordinate Bench in Crl.P.Nos.1258/2025, 1431/2025, 6850/2026, 1487/2026 and 14203/2025 has considered the application filed by the accused for granting the regular bail, also heard the objections of the next of kin of the victim and proceeded to grant bail. The petitions in the aforesaid cases as well as the instant case arise out of the same set of facts and charges. Hence, denying bail to the accused herein would amount to disparity.
- c) The Hon'ble Supreme Court has rejected the appeal filed by the State challenging the grant of bail to accused Nos.4 and 11 – The SLP(Crl)No.13498/2026 filed by the State against the accused No.4 and SLP(Crl)No.13907/2026 filed by the State against the accused No.11. It is to be noted that the grant of bail to the accused No.4 by the Co-ordinate Bench of this Court was without hearing the next of kin of the deceased and the same has been affirmed by the Hon'ble Supreme Court.

d) Further delay in disposal of the cases - The Hon'ble Supreme Court in TEHSEEN S POONAWALLA referred supra has clearly laid down the time limit of 6 months for disposal of cases involving mob violence/lynching. Hence, setting aside the order for grant of bail and ordering for re-consideration of the same by the Sessions Court after hearing the next of kin of the deceased would further delay the disposal of the cases.

e) Liberty to be curtailed only in exceptional circumstances - It is trite law that the liberty of an individual must not be curtailed unless it is absolutely necessary. In the instant case, though bail has been granted without following the due procedure, neither

NC: 2026:KHC:44907
CRL.P No.10339/2025
AND CONNECTED MATTERS

the petitioner nor the State are alleging that the accused have violated the conditions of bail or have committed any further crime. Hence, I am of the view that the liberty of the accused cannot be curtailed merely on the ground of procedural lapse by the Court specially when there is no allegation of violation of bail conditions or misconduct.

16. Insofar as the contention of the learned State Public Prosecutor-I appearing for the State to include an additional condition in the bail conditions to make themselves present before the Police Station to prevent witness tampering is concerned, I am of the view that the same is required to be rejected as there is no allegation against the accused either for violation of the existing bail conditions or for tampering of any witness.

17. The learned counsel appearing for the next of kin of the deceased also contends that the guidelines in TEHSEEN S POONAWALLA referred supra clearly indicate that the State shall formulate a scheme for computation of the compensation for the victim and the said scheme must also have provision for interim relief to be paid to the victim(s) or to the next of kin of the deceased within a period of thirty days of the incident of mob violence or lynching, however, no such scheme for granting interim compensation has been formulated by the State. The learned State Public Prosecutor-I for the State has filed a memo along with documents indicating a detailed point-wise compliance report on each of the directions issued by the Hon'ble Supreme Court under paragraph 40 of TEHSEEN S POONAWALLA referred supra, specifically indicating compliance in respect of Crime No.37/2025 registered by Mangaluru Rural Police station. 18. The aforesaid table as well as the perusal of the memo along with the documents indicate the compliance of the specific guidelines along with the actions taken by the State in its compliance. The Government Order No. HD 1 CRR 2023 dated 27.09.2023 at Annexure-7 along with the memo indicates the compensation to be provided to the victims or the next of kin of the victims. However, it is to be noticed that the said order does not contain any provision for grant of interim compensation to the victim or the next of his/her kin as per the guidelines in the case of TEHSEEN S POONAWALLA, referred supra. Hence, I am of the considered view that the State is required to be directed to formulate a scheme to inculcate the provision for interim compensation to the victims or the next of their kin in consonance with the guidelines in the case of TEHSEEN S POONAWALLA, referred supra.

NC: 2026:KHC:44907

19. Mob lynching represents a grave threat to the rule of law, human rights, and social fabric, as it replaces legal justice with brutal, collective lawlessness driven by prejudice, intolerance and hate. To effectively curb this alarming phenomenon, the Parliament in the BNS has introduced Section 103(2), which explicitly criminalizes mob-driven violence by stipulating that when a group of five or more persons acting in concert commits murder on the grounds of race, caste, community, sex, place of birth, language, personal belief or similar factors, every member of the group shall face stringent punishment, including the death penalty or imprisonment for life, alongside a mandatory fine.

20. However, it is rightly contended by the learned counsels that the procedure as laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of TEHSEEN S PONNAWALLA referred supra, has not been followed by the Trial Court as well as the Sessions Court and the other stake holders in various cases. Hence, it would be appropriate to re-iterate the guidelines issued in the case of TEHSEEN S POONAWALLA referred supra as follows:
